UACHTARÁN Ó FEARGHAIL: OUR CLUBS INSPIRE ME

GAA President Aogán Ó Fearghail says he draws strength and inspiration from the work he sees taking place in GAA Clubs all over the country.

Speaking exclusively to the GAA Club Newsletter as he embarks on the start of his third and final year as Uachtarán Chumann Luthchleas Gael, the Cavan native has paid tribute to the energy and vitality of the GAA's volunteers at club level and salutes their positivity.

He said: "I don't think GAA clubs could survive if they were not positive – it is just not possible because every single club has a challenge.

"If you are in a very large urban area and you have so many other sports and distractions, so many other issues pulling at you and venues are always a big issue – that is a big challenge. Then if you are at the opposite end and you are in a rural club and people have gone and you have more people from your parish in New South Wales in Australia than you have at home in your club – these are all massive issues.

"But if you start out with the problems your club is going nowhere and what I find when I go around is that the vast majority of our clubs are in a good place and primarily because they have positive leadership; they are people who just get up and get on with it.

"They realise their difficulties, they know them and are aware of them and don't ignore them – but I think our clubs are great.

"On average, I'm in at least four clubs a week and never was there as much activity they tell me, they have more young girls and boys than ever and they really value what comes to them from Croke Park and I am hearing that all the time.

"For example, through the GAA Healthy Club initiative up and down the length of the country we now have clubs with walking groups, clubs doing yoga classes, clubs that are eating better and they are all getting and thanking Croke Park for the advice being given to them.

"We have wonderful club facilities with financial assistance from Central Council which are distributed through the provinces and are a wonderful addition and people really value that.

“There are more coaches than ever and coaches are delivering in schools and delivering to clubs so the amount of activity was never higher, the organisational levels was never better. I love to hear clubs tell me that the courses we are delivering in Club Leadership are well received. There are issues but, in the main, clubs are in a good place and there are good things happening.

“Every time we sit down in Páirc an Chrócaigh with the roughly 30 different committees we have – the first thing on their agenda is ‘what can we do to make it a better life for clubs?’ and it is always to the forefront of GAA thinking and I am delighted that we have set that very strongly on the agenda and I look forward in the next 12 months to keeping that on a continuous rise – the empowerment and facilitation for clubs.”

As he reflects on what was a busy but successful Congress, Uachtarán Ó Fearghail insists the decisions made at Croke Park that weekend will have lasting benefits for club activity.

He added: “Every decision made here in Croke Park is to try and help clubs and I think the greatest example of that is the recent decisions of Congress.

“The reason for condensing the inter-county football championship is to create more space for our clubs. Bringing back All-Ireland finals to August and potentially losing both PR and finance from replays was done to give space to our clubs.”

For a small minority these changes have not done enough and there have been some who have claimed a sense of disconnect between Croke Park and grassroots level.

It is a charge that the Uachtarán refutes based on the evidence he sees from his 32 county travels across the GAA’s 1600 strong club network.

He insisted: “If some people feel a disconnect I am sorry that they do. You have to remember the membership of the GAA is now around 750,000 and not all of them will share the strength of the warm feeling we’ve got, but the people I meet on a daily and weekly basis never felt more strengthened by being part of anything than they do at the moment because they see the GAA as one place and they are part of it.

“All I can say is what I see. I am in, on average, four clubs a week and I don’t see a disconnect in the people I meet and I certainly don’t feel a disconnect.

“I wouldn’t like to upset anyone and if someone feels a disconnect I’m disappointed and sorry they feel it, but it is not my experience and it is very much a small minority view because the clubs I am meeting – they can’t all be fooling me – they are very warm in their enthusiasm with the link of club to county to province to Croke Park and they see it all as one and the same. There is no hierarchy in the GAA and people who say that are people who just don’t understand what we do.

“My role at the moment is to be president of this Association. My role 10 years ago was to be chairman of my club. My role in two years’ time will be a coach in my club and you serve in whatever role you find yourself in that time. There isn’t disconnect. There can’t be a disconnect when you are of it yourself.

“The Ard Stiúrthóir Páraic Duffy spent his life with his juvenile club in Scotstown and coaching his club and his school teams in St MacCartans. I spent 25 years consecutively coaching U12 teams in my club. I have been chairman, secretary, and every role possible within my club so we are all connected because that is what we are and every decision made here in Croke Park is to try and help clubs.”

As well as thanking clubs for their work on behalf of the Association while on these visits, Aogán says he always reminds clubs that big or small, they are part of a big family. He explained: “I would always thank clubs for what they do and also remind them they are part of a big family and a growing family and they like that – it resonates with them.

“They are part of the GAA family – that whole sense of togetherness and what the GAA always was aspiring to be and it is still in our opening rule that we are building a sense of Irishness in an Irish nation and building a sense of community and that is empowering people to make them feel good about themselves. The greatest need of all human beings is to belong and the GAA club provides that.”

Uachtarán Ó Fearghail intends maintaining his list of club visits and is also focused on the upcoming 150th committee report which will help position the GAA for where it wants to be in 2034 – the year of our 150th anniversary.

After the changes to the football championship, the president says he is committed to engaging and listening to the hurling community to see what way the hurling championship needs to be approached for the coming years, and he is pleased that new relationship with the GPA protects the amateur ethos of our county players.

He says: “The role has been even better than I expected.

“The colour and the magic when you drive around the country and into parishes and see the passion and excitement is great and it is uplifting.”

CROKE PARK ALLOCATES €100K TO LOCAL COMMUNITY

The winners were confirmed of the 2017 GAA National Club Draw after the event took place in Croke Park this afternoon.

In the region of €1.5 million was raised through the draw with all funds retained by clubs who took part in the draw.

The tickets were drawn by Uachtarán Chumann Lúthchleas Aogán Ó Fearghail who said: "The club draw is the GAA's way of helping clubs.

"It's an offer which is there for all clubs to take part in where they can sell the tickets and retain all the profits. Central Council provides the prizes, and they are wonderful prizes.

"We allow clubs to sell up to 2,000 tickets so potentially any club can avail of €20,000 which is an incredible assistance to clubs and so many of them have benefited over the course of the last four years. In that time in excess of €7 Million has been raised by our clubs.

"Clubs get involved by simply looking to Croke Park for the tickets which are available through our finance committee who do a wonderful job. We make sure that clubs are alerted to the fact that the draw is on.

"A lot of clubs have been running their own draws for years, but the big difference here is that we're providing all the prizes and clubs retain 100% of the profits. I'd love to see this being availed of by every club in the country."

CLUB LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

At first look, to the uninformed, the winter and early spring months might seem like the quieter months of the year for our Clubs.

This is not an unfair assumption as, for many of us, there are no games taking place, the formalities of the Prize Giving Dinner and Annual General Meeting are over for another year. The reality however is a different story. Over the past few years, the months of January to March have saw 100's of hours invested in training 1000's of our Club Officers and the 2017 deliveries of the Club Leadership Development Programme has been one of the busiest periods for training our volunteer administrators yet.

The last three months has saw huge numbers of Club Officers from across the country develop themselves as Leaders within their Club. By the time the Club Leadership Development Programme takes a pause in the middle of next month, and building on last year's successes, the Programme will have been delivered at least once in every County in Ireland. This isn't the only impressive number from this year's Programme however...

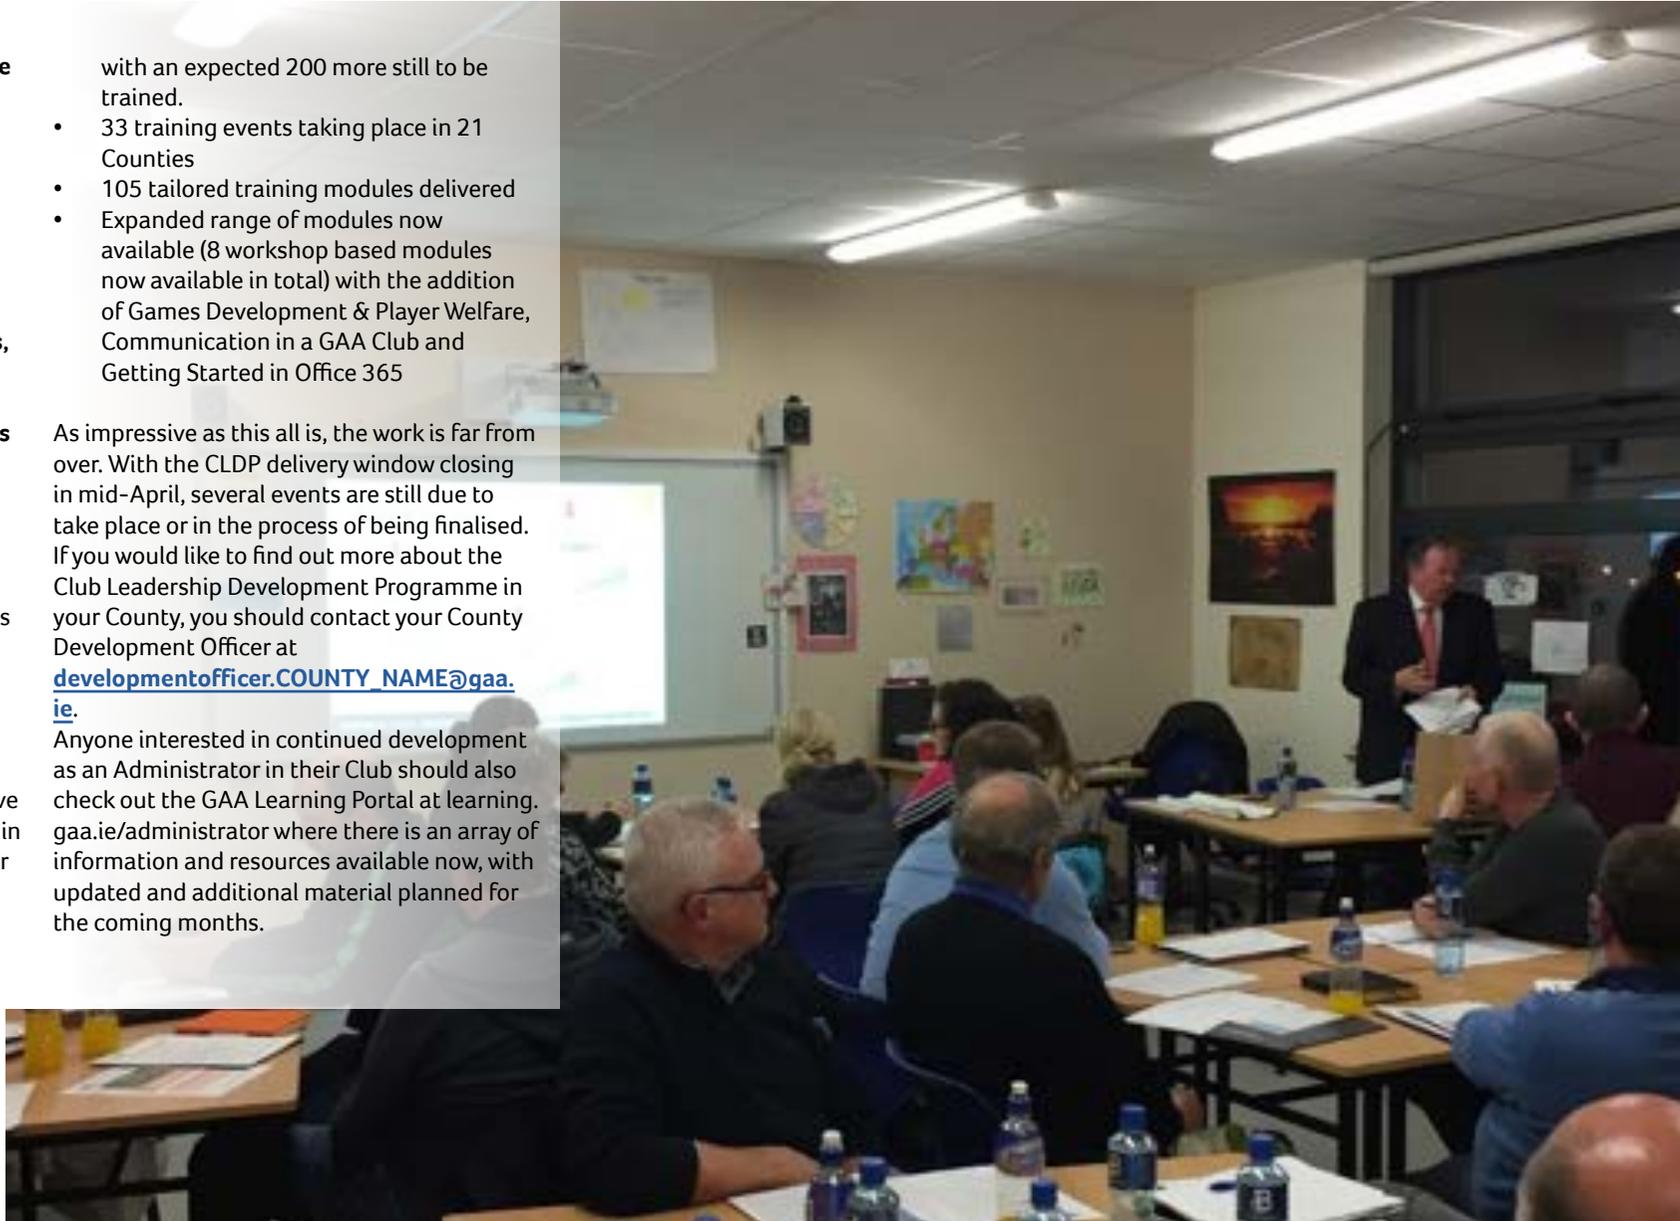

- Over 1100 Club Officers trained to date with an expected 200 more still to be trained.

- 33 training events taking place in 21 Counties
- 105 tailored training modules delivered
- Expanded range of modules now available (8 workshop based modules now available in total) with the addition of Games Development & Player Welfare, Communication in a GAA Club and Getting Started in Office 365

As impressive as this all is, the work is far from over. With the CLDP delivery window closing in mid-April, several events are still due to take place or in the process of being finalised. If you would like to find out more about the Club Leadership Development Programme in your County, you should contact your County Development Officer at developmentofficer.COUNTY_NAME@gaa.ie.

Anyone interested in continued development as an Administrator in their Club should also check out the GAA Learning Portal at learning.gaa.ie/administrator where there is an array of information and resources available now, with updated and additional material planned for the coming months.

Online module on effective meetings

The GAA has developed an online module to help officers meetings more effectively.

About the module

Meetings are an essential part of running a GAA Club Executive, County Management Committee or Provincial Council. Running meetings so that they run smoothly and achieve what they are supposed to is not as easy as it sounds but it is a skill that can be developed. A well-managed meeting can encourage cooperation between members because people can be made aware of developments across their area of interest in the Association and contribute to them. Meetings also play an important role in developing team spirit, as volunteers feel a part of changes and plans that they have helped shape. They are especially useful for problem solving. On the other hand, meetings that are not well run can be a source of frustration for members and slow down progress with developments.

Considering this, the GAA has developed an online module to support officers at club, county and provincial levels to run more effective meetings. It is a time-saving guide to planning and running meetings from start to finish which covers preparation, keeping the meeting on track, complying with the GAA Constitution & Rules, and follow-up on actions. It includes best practice advice for dealing with challenging individuals, as well as downloadable templates for creating effective meeting agendas and meeting minutes.

What you'll learn

1. Approaches, rules and tips for running effective meetings
2. How to prepare and organise a Club Annual General Meeting
3. Tools and templates to organise and run effective meetings

Meet the instructor

Jody O'Connor

GAA Leadership Associate

Jody is from the Cratloe GAA Club in Co. Clare and is an Associate of the GAA Club Leadership Development Programme. In this role, Jody facilitates training for club officers on their roles and responsibilities.

Participant feedback

"I thought it was perfect and covered every aspect of what is required. Any new Secretary or officer who studied that module would understand how the role has to be performed."

"The module is excellent. Key information is presented in a wide range of interesting ways. It is interactive with, again, a nice variety of activities to maintain the participant's interest. The links to supporting documents are also useful. The content in this module will be a great reference point and support for Chairpersons and Secretary."

"My initial reaction is that this is a very good module. It is well structured and easy to navigate. The content is excellent and I learned a lot from it. Anyone doing this module online would certainly know what was necessary to conduct effective meetings."

Accessing the module

To access the module, complete these steps:

1. Open an internet browser on your laptop or PC – (Our preferred browser is Google Chrome. Please note that the module is not compatible with a phone or tablet device)

GRADAIM AN UACHTARÁIN / PRESIDENT'S AWARDS

Winners of GAA President's Awards 2017 in Croke Park

The GAA is pleased to confirm the recipients for Gradaim an Uachtaráin 2017 which were presented at a special banquet in Croke Park.

The awards, organised with the support of Club Championship sponsors AIB and broadcast by TG4, are staged annually by the GAA and provide the GAA President with an opportunity to acknowledge outstanding commitment and long service across the club, and county network from people whose highly valued contribution may not be recognised on the national stage.

The awards are made on a provincial and code basis. As well as Gaeilge, Education and International Awards, the presentation of the annual Dermot Earley Family Award will also be made.

Uachtarán Chumann Lúthchleas Gael Aogán Ó Fearghail, who will present the awards at tonight's event, said: "We organise this event every year to highlight some of the individuals across the wider GAA family who make a colossal contribution to the health and wellbeing of the games.

"Many of those being honoured this evening will not be well known outside their clubs and communities – if at all. However, you can be sure that they are highly valued at home for everything they do and people like them exist and work tirelessly in every club, both around Ireland and around the world. This is our way of acknowledging and thanking them for all they do to promote and bolster our games week-in, week-out, year-in, year-out.

“I would like to acknowledge AIB and Denis O’Callaghan, Head of Branch Banking AIB, for their ongoing support of these awards.

“Míle buíochas also to TG4 and to Alan Esslemont, Ard Stiúrthóir for their assistance in helping us to bring these awards to the widest audience possible.”

Buaiteoirí Gradaim an Uachtaráin 2017:

MUNSTER- Bill Harte, Carbery Rangers GAA, Cork

Bill Harte has been involved with Carbery Rangers since his playing days stretching back to the 1950s. In the period since he has occupied virtually every role on offer as well as serving on the General Purposes Committee of the West Cork Board. His retirement as a player saw him pursue a refereeing and coaching career with no little success. He helped drive the publication of the History of Carbery Rangers and has also been instrumental in the enhancement of facilities and as well as showing a keen interest in Scór.

CONNACHT- Paddy Beirne, Tremane Hurling Club, Co Roscommon.

The epitome of safe hands, goalkeeper Paddy Beirne has been a life-long hero to the people of Tremane Hurling Club. Involved since the Club’s inception in 1945, he was a prominent figure on teams that won three Senior Championships, two Junior Championships as well as three football titles. He played on the first Tremane team to win a county crown in 1956 through to being part of the 1976 management team that steered them to being the first Roscommon club to win the Connacht title. Quick thinking and reactions were his hallmark and this same decisiveness was put to great use serving every possible role in the club up to the position of President he now holds.

ULSTER - Jim McKeever, Ballymaguigan St Treas, Co Derry

Jim McKeever excelled at every level of the GAA as a renowned footballer playing colleges, club, county and provincial football. He collected county medals and was captain of the Derry team of 1958 that lost the All-Ireland final of 1958. In addition to a long and successful career as an administrator, he developed a strong interest in coaching to complement his role as a prominent educator. He served as Head of Physical Education at St Mary’s Training College for 40 years and is synonymous with the GAA in Derry in particular.

LEINSTER - Ann Gannon, Summerhill, Co Meath

Anne Gannon has given a life time of service to the Summerhill club, a club her whole family is immersed in. A fantastic ambassador for the club, she fulfils a multitude of roles to this day. A keen attender of games, she projects a positive and welcoming image for the club and is extremely popular with members right across the club.

CAMOGIE - Eithne Allen, Sarsfields Camogie Club, Co Cork.

She won club and college honours as a player and entered administration in her late teens. She has been a pioneering figure in coaching and games development, and as current club secretary she is a key figure in the organisation and promotion of camogie in the Sarsfields club and further afield. The club has enjoyed particular success in recent years as one of the country’s largest camogie clubs and it continues to go from strength to strength.

HANDBALL - Matt Purcell, Ballymore Eustace GAA Handball Club, Co Kildare

Matt Purcell will forever be associated with Ballymore Eustace Handball Club and he enjoyed a fabulously successful playing career from 1958 to 1984. In 1984 Matt teamed up with the legendary Pat Kirby to win the World Masters 40 x 20 title in Croke Park. This World title was the last major win of a wonderful handball career for Matt. Since then he served in various administrative roles at club and county level for decades, keeping Ballymore Eustace and Kildare at the forefront of the sport through his relentless drive to keep handball alive and well in all of its codes. He is also a renowned handball historian.

LADIES FOOTBALL- John Sheridan, Kilmacud Crokes GAA Club, Co Dublin

Cavan native John Sheridan has been a loyal member of the Kilmacud Crokes Club in Dublin since 1972. But it is in the realm of Ladies Football in particular that he has won special recognition. Thanks to John, Kilmacud Crokes started their first ever Ladies football team back in 1996. From those tentative first steps and with John’s constant support, guidance and encouragement, 30 years later Kilmacud have grown from being one Ladies team to now being the biggest Ladies football club in Ireland with 750 active members across 30 teams. His passion and organisational abilities have also helped create the success that is the U14 7-aside event which has grown in prominence since its debut in 2004 and he continues to inspire with his energy and enthusiasm.

RNLI AND GAA TO WORK TOGETHER TO PREVENT DROWNING

The RNLI (the charity that saves lives at sea) and the GAA have today announced a major partnership aimed at reducing the number of people who lose their lives though drowning in Ireland. Each year an average of 28 people drown accidentally around the Irish coast.*

The RNLI aims to halve coastal drowning by 2024 and the GAA will work with the charity to engage with clubs and communities, particularly on the coast, to provide information and support that could save lives.

The RNLI's drowning prevention campaign 'Respect the Water', will be supported through the GAA's Healthy Clubs initiative and the wider club network. Many GAA clubs are based in coastal communities with 333 of them in a 10km radius of the 46 RNLI lifeboat stations in Ireland. Their location makes them ideally placed for sharing information and raising awareness of the causes of drowning and how to prevent it.

In announcing the partnership, the President of the GAA, Aogán Ó Fearghaíl says, 'In the RNLI the GAA sees an organisation that mirrors its core values of community activity and volunteerism. We welcome the 'Respect the Water' campaign and its efforts to keep people safe all year round.'

Joining the President at the launch is RNLI Chief Executive, Paul Boissier, who added, 'Drowning devastates communities, but it's often accepted as just part of life by the water. We believe that many of these deaths are preventable and we need to work with other organisations who, like us, want to keep their communities safe.'

Much like a lifeboat station, a GAA club is at the heart of community life. Sporting communities can play a major role in preventing deaths by drowning. Through their approach to the sport and their position in the community they are well placed to be lifesavers.'

Through the partnership the RNLI invited the GAA to their training college in Poole and to Portsmouth University, to meet cold water shock expert Professor Mike Tipton. Four GAA athletes; Jackie Tyrrell from Kilkenny, Lyndsey Davey from Dublin, Neil McManus from Antrim and Lee Chin from Wexford experienced what it was like to be plunged into cold water and see the effects of it on the body.

The athletes, along with representatives of four coastal 'GAA Healthy Clubs' (Bray Emmets, Wicklow; St. Peter's, Down; Achill, Mayo, and Castlehaven, Cork), also took part in rescue scenarios in specially created challenging weather and sea conditions.

Dublin footballer and three times GAA All-Star, Lyndsey Davey, has a very personal reason for getting involved in the campaign. Her great uncle Michael Hayes was the skipper on the Tit Bonhomme, which sank off Glandore Harbour with the loss of five of the six crew, including Michael. Lyndsey says, 'The loss of Michael and his crew was a very difficult time for all the families involved.'

During the days and weeks following the sinking, the whole community of Union Hall really came together. The search and rescue efforts were relentless and the support given was incredible. I got involved in this campaign as I wanted to give something back and help create awareness around water safety and drowning. In doing so I hope we can prevent any family the pain of losing a loved one through drowning.'

All-Ireland winning Kilkenny hurler Jackie Tyrrell said, 'Like many people in Ireland I too have lost someone close to me to drowning. So many of our clubs live and train near the water, whether on the coast or near inland rivers and lakes. We have a responsibility to help and our sport and our ethos encourage this. I know our supporters get behind us in our games, now we are asking them to get behind this campaign; it could help save a life.'

Antrim Champion Hurler and Cushendall native, Neil McManus, has been at the fore in driving the partnership and added, 'The stories of loss through drowning that we've heard from the RNLI really hit home. You can't help but think of the grief of the families.'

I play hurling across the road from the local lifeboat station and I know not everyone can be rescued. In backing this campaign I hope that the message reaches as many people as possible because no family should have to suffer the pain of losing a loved one through drowning.'

Wexford Hurler Lee Chin has also put his full support behind the campaign. Lee says, 'Visiting the RNLI College and taking part in the exercises and rescue scenarios has made me aware how quickly people can get into trouble in the water. Simple advice and information can save lives and reduce the numbers of people drowning in Ireland.'

The athletes and Healthy Clubs representatives were joined at the launch by Kerry footballer Killian Young and Cork footballer Brian Hurley. Both athletes live near the RNLI lifeboat stations, Union Hall and Valentia and are backing the Respect the Water campaign.

Legendary broadcaster Mícheál Ó Muircheartaigh, who was Master of Ceremonies for the launch, has also narrated a specially commissioned short film for the partnership, which was given its first screening at the event.

The RNLI will work with the GAA and their volunteers in local communities to promote the campaign and share key safety messages and advice.

PLAYER WELFARE

GAA 15 Injury Prevention Programme / Warm Up

The Medical, Scientific and Welfare Committee in conjunction with a working group comprising of experts including Dr. Catherine Blake, Prof. Niall Moyna and Dr. Kieran Moran have developed the GAA 15, a standardised warm-up programme aimed at reducing the number of injuries sustained by GAA players. Recent research carried out in IT Carlow has shown that using the GAA 15 can significantly reduce lower limb related training injuries by up to 45% in adolescent males.

Oisín McConville speaks about how Crossmaglen Rangers have benefited from using and adapting the GAA 15/Activate Warm-up as part of their training sessions.

The programme, including video tutorials on the exercises involved is available at the following link:

Concussion

Questions for your club:

- Who is responsible for Concussion education in your club?
- Have all members been notified of the resources available in relation to concussion? (Guidelines and Information sheets etc;)
- Have all team mentors completed the GAA's online e-learning course? Is this club policy?
- Is it club policy that a player who has suffered a suspected concussion receives medical clearance before he returns to play?
- Is a poster displayed prominently in the club house / dressing rooms?

What is Concussion?

Concussion is a brain injury and can be caused by a direct or indirect hit to the player's head or body. Concussion typically results in an immediate onset of short lived signs and symptoms. However in some cases, the signs and symptoms of concussion may evolve over a number of minutes or hours.

Concussion diagnosis is a clinical judgement by a suitably qualified medical professional.

GAA Concussion Guidelines

The GAA Concussion Guidelines are based on international best practice and are approved and regularly reviewed by the GAA's Medical, Scientific and Welfare Committee. The guidelines are based on the following key principles:

- Concussion is a brain injury that needs to be taken seriously to protect the long term welfare of all players.
- Any player suspected of having sustained a concussion, should be removed immediately from the field and should not return to play on the same day.
- Where a Team Doctor is present, he should advise the person in charge of the team (i.e. Team Manager) in this regard and the player must not be allowed to continue his participation in the game.
- Concussion is an evolving injury. It is important to monitor the player after the injury for progressive deterioration.
- Concussion diagnosis is a clinical judgement – Use of the SCAT 3 (Sport Concussion Assessment Tool 3RD Edition) can aid the doctor in his /her diagnosis.
- Players suspected of having a concussion, should have adequate rest of at least 24 hours and then should follow a gradual return to play (GRTP) protocol.
- Players up to the age of 18 should have a two week rest period and then should follow a GRTP protocol
- Players should receive medical clearance (by a doctor) before returning to play.

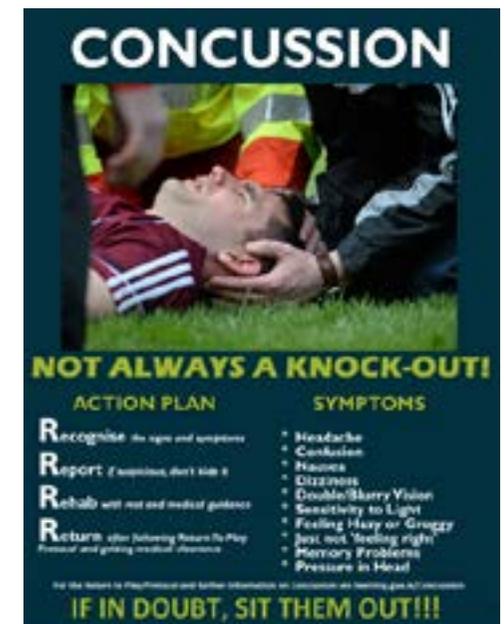

The guidelines have received widespread acknowledgement and praise for their emphasis on the principle "if in doubt, sit them out".

GAA Concussion Resources

A Concussion education poster will be distributed to all clubs via County Boards during February 2016 and is also available to download from <http://learning.gaa.ie/Concussion>. All clubs are requested to display this poster prominently in their clubhouse or dressing rooms.

Further resources including the full guidelines, the GAA's E-Learning Course and advice sheets for Players, Coaches, Parents and Referees are available on

GAA MUSEUM SUMMER SCHOOL TO EXAMINE 'THE POLITICS OF SPORT'

Industry experts will discuss 'Sport and Politics' at the 2017 GAA Museum Summer School, including internationally renowned activist and sociologist Dr. Harry Edwards

Who said that politics and sport should not mix?

The GAA Museum is hosting a fascinating series of talks at Croke Park this summer from Thursday 29th June to Saturday 1st July examining the theme of 'Sport and Politics' and the effects they have had on one another since the 1870s.

National and international leading experts in their field will discuss diverse topics including how the GAA suffered in the 1890s due to its support for Charles Stewart Parnell; the issues and divisions in Irish soccer that led to the establishment of two separate governing bodies in 1921; the struggle for an Irish identity through the Olympic movement pre-1922; how the Irish republican movement has viewed sport since 1923, and the cultural trauma felt by the people of Liverpool in the aftermath of the 1989 Hillsborough tragedy.

Commenting, Mark Reynolds, the GAA Museum Archivist, said "The event will be of huge interest to anyone with a keen interest in sport, politics or history. The broad overall theme of 'Sport and Politics' and the calibre of the speakers ensures that this will be an engaging and stimulating experience for all those who attend. We are honoured to have high profile speakers attending from all over the world, including Doctor Harry Edwards, Professor John Hughson and Professor Alan Bairner. It is a unique opportunity to ask questions and interact with these speakers."

The keynote talk from internationally renowned Doctor Harry Edwards, the former Professor Emeritus of Sociology at the University of California, Berkeley is much anticipated. Doctor Edwards will speak on the history of sport and racial segregation in America from the 1960s.

Fifty years ago, in 1967, Edwards established the Olympic Project for Human Rights (OPHR) through which he called for a Black athlete boycott of the United States 1968 Olympic team, in order to highlight the racial inequities and barriers that existed in sport and society. The movement resulted in demonstrations by Black athletes across America and ultimately at the 1968 Mexico City games where the iconic 'Black Power Salute' was delivered by Tommie Smith and John Carlos.

Edwards, a scholar-activist who became spokesperson for what amounted to a revolution in sports, is now considered the leading authority on developments at the interface of race, sport, and society and was a pioneering scholar in the founding of the sociology of sport as an academic discipline.

This really interesting combination of talks at the GAA Museum Summer School will have huge appeal to anyone with an interest in politics, sport or history and culture.

Tickets cost €45 per day or €120 for a three day pass. Lunch and tea/coffee are included in the price. Advance booking is required, and it is expected to sell out quickly, so secure your place today on <https://crokepark.ie/summerschool> GAA Museum Summer School itinerary:

CUALA CLAIM AIB ALL IRELAND SHC TITLE

CUALA (DUBLIN) 2-19 BALLYEA (CLARE) 1-10

By John Harrington at Croke Park

Cuala created history in Croke Park today by becoming the first ever Dublin club to win the AIB GAA All-Ireland Club Senior Hurling Championship.

It was a richly deserved victory too as they over-powered a game Ballyea team that simply couldn't cope with their firepower.

The Dublin side dominated right down the spine of the field thanks to herculean performances from the likes of Cian O'Callaghan, Sean Moran, Darragh O'Connell, John Sheanon, Colm Cronin, and Con O'Callaghan.

That sextet in particular hurled with a potent combination of aggression, pace, and craft, that bodes very well for the general health of Dublin hurling.

Cuala's performance was all the more impressive considering the greasy sod and spitting rain made playing conditions difficult.

It was a scrappy, hard-hitting contest in the early stages with forwards finding it difficult to turn quickly which played into the hands of the tight-marking defenders of both teams.

As the half progressed though Cuala gradually began to take control of the contest, thanks largely to the dominance of their half-backs and midfield.

The Dublin team had given regular wing-back John Sheanon the arduous task of man-marking Ballyea danger-man Tony Kelly, and the manner in which the dominated that tussle really set the tone for the contest.

His showing combined with some brilliant hurling from Darragh O'Connell alongside him in the Cuala midfield and the ball-winning ability of Colm Cronin meant the Ballyea defence was coming under increasing pressure.

The first significant blow of the game was struck on 15 minutes when that man Cronin scored a fine goal.

Cuala full-forward Con O'Callaghan broke a high ball right into the onrushing Cronin's path, and the centre-forward drilled a brilliant finish to the right-hand corner of the net.

The initial response from Ballyea was impressive as Niall Deasy and James Murphy knocked over points to reduce the deficit to two, but Cuala then enjoyed their best spell of the game thus far in the ten minutes before half-time as they hit four unanswered points.

Con O'Callaghan was becoming a more and more influential presence at the apex of their attack, and was very unlucky when a looping shot came off the cross-bar and back into play.

He got the score he had been long-threatening just before the half-time whistle when he slung over a beauty from the right-hand side to give Cuala a 1-7 to 0-4 lead.

Ballyea needed a fast start to the second-half and they nearly got it too when Pearse Lillis tore through on goal.

But just when it looked like he must hit the back of the net, Paul Schutte did brilliantly to get in a partial hook in that took the power out of the shot and made the save a lot easier for Cuala 'keeper Sean Brennan.

That miss looked all the more costly when Cuala then scored the first three points of the match at the end, two frees from Treacy and another classy point from Con O'Callaghan.

It was starting to look grim for Ballyea who trailed now by nine, but points from Gary Brennan and Pearse Lillis briefly gave their supporters cause for hope.

The problem for the Clare team was that for all of their effort, Cuala remained dangerous at the other end of the field whenever they hit the ball in the direction of men like Cronin, O'Callaghan, and the always influential David Treacy, and by the 45th minute still held an eight-point lead, 1-12 to 0-8.

The match then entered a tit-for-tat phase with Treacy and Niall Deasy regularly exchanging pointed frees, which did little to aid Ballyea's overall cause.

They badly needed a goal, and it finally came on the 50-minute mark when their two most dangerous forwards combined as Pearse Lillis picked out Deasy with an angled cross-field pass and the wing-forward smashed the ball to the back of the net.

Ballyea had the momentum they so badly craved, but it didn't last long. Darragh O'Connell immediately responded with a fine point for Cuala after a jet-heeled run, and then a couple of minutes later they struck for their second-goal.

Con O'Callaghan did well again to win a hard ball before popping a perfect hand-pass to the onrushing Jake Malone who delivered an emphatic low finish to the net.

Cuala now led by 2-15 to 1-10, and Ballyea were faced with a mountain they simply couldn't climb.

The remainder of the match was a Cuala procession that delighted their vocal supporters as they hit the final six points of the match.

It was the perfect exclamation mark for a hugely emphatic performance.

Scorers for Cuala: David Treacy 0-9 (8fs), Colm Cronin 1-1, Jake Malone 1-0, Con O'Callaghan 0-3, Darragh O'Connell 0-3, Colum Sheanon 0-2, John Sheanon 0-1, M Schutte 0-1.

DR. CROKES WIN AIB GAA ALL-IRELAND CLUB SFC FINAL

Dr. Crokes (Kerry) 1-9 Slaughtneil (Derry) 1-7

By John Harrington at Croke Park

Dr. Crokes dug deep to defeat a brave Slaughtneil in Croke Park this evening and win the AIB All-Ireland Club SFC for the first time since 1992.

Colm Cooper was the team mascot back then, and 25 years later he and this generation of Dr. Crokes players finally reached the promised land after many years of trying and falling just short.

They deserved their victory, but you could argue the decisive moment of the match came just before half-time when Slaughtneil midfielder Pádraig Cassidy was red-carded for striking.

Winning the match with 14-men was always going to be a huge ask for the Derry side, and Cassidy had been a key player for them until his departure, scoring their first-half goal.

Until that red-card there was nothing between the two teams. Slaughtneil were actually the quicker team to settle and seriously troubled Dr. Crokes early on with their clever, skilful, and every effective brand of football.

They played Sé McGuigan and Cormac

Doherty in a two-man full-forward line right on the edge of the Dr. Crokes square, and made them the focal point of their attacking strategy.

Once they brought the ball into the Dr. Crokes half with strong running and slick hand-passing, they would then drive it in long and support runners would feed off the breaks from McGuigan and Doherty.

Sweetly struck points on the run from two of those support runners, Shane McGuigan and Christopher Bradley, gave them an early two-point lead as Dr. Crokes struggled to match their energy.

The Kerry and Munster champions slowly settled through, and Brian Looney got them off the mark after six minutes with a nice finish from the left-wing after cutting back inside onto his right foot.

That positive start from Looney was a foretaste of what was to come, and by half-time he would have accumulated three points from play, all of them really classy scores.

Dr. Crokes defender Gavin White had a glorious chance to score the first goal of the game after a turbo-charged run down the middle ripped the Slaughtneil defence asunder, but he steered his shot wide.

Dr. Crokes had still managed to chisel out a one-point lead by the eleventh minute thanks to converted frees from Colm Cooper and Daithi Casey, but a couple of minutes later they were reeling when Pádraig Cassidy goaled for Slaughtneil.

Once again their tactic of going long to their two-man full-forward line and feeding off them worked a treat as O'Doherty won a great ball and then fed the on-rushing Cassidy.

The midfielder still had a lot to do, but he showed real composure to cut back inside onto his left-foot to take goal-keeper Shane Murphy out of the equation and clip a low shot to the back of the net.

Another Christopher Bradley point was followed by a Paul Bradley free after an inspirational run from Chrissy McKaigue, and Slaughtneil were leading by 1-4 to 0-3 and looking good.

Dr. Crokes needed players to step up and show some leadership, and it was no surprise that Daithi Casey and Colm Cooper were those men.

Casey tore the Slaughtneil defence open with a powerful solo down the middle and then had the presence of mind to punch a ball that looked like it was about to bounce away from him into the path of Cooper.

The angle was tight, but Cooper produced a typically clinical finish as he angled a low shot past Antoin McMullan and to the back of the net.

The momentum was with Dr. Crokes now, and a point from Casey and two from Looney had them 1-6 to 1-5 ahead in first-half injury-time.

Then came that decisive moment when Cassidy was red-carded just before half-time for striking out at Kieran O'Leary of Dr. Crokes. By the letter of the law, referee David Coldrick had little option but to send him off.

Despite being a man down, Slaughtneil bravely stuck to their guns for the second-half, lining out again with two inside forwards pushed right up onto the Dr. Crokes square.

They scrapped tenaciously for every ball and deserved to draw level after 37 minutes when Paul Bradley flighted over a free.

The longer the game wore on the more likely the numerical advantage of Dr. Crokes would begin to tell, and so it proved.

Their ability to bring on two live-wire attacking subs in the shape of Micheál Burns and Jordan Kiely was also an important factor because they both brought a lot of energy and class to the Crokes attack.

A smartly taken point from Burns pushed the Kerry side two up, and then Kiely set off on a jinking run that won a free Colm Cooper converted to push Dr. Crokes 1-9 to 1-6 ahead and put some daylight between the teams.

Slaughtneil refused to die, though. They emptied their bench to bring some much-needed fresh-legs into their hard-working team, and forced Dr. Crokes to concede a free that Bradley pointed to reduce the gap to two.

That proved to be their last score though as Dr. Crokes saw out the game in a very professional manner.

They dropped Colm Cooper back into a deep-lying quarter-back role, and successfully played keep-ball for long stretches to run down the clock and keep Slaughtneil at bay.

Scorers for Dr. Crokes: Colm Cooper 1-2 (2f), Brian Looney 0-3, Daithi Casey 0-3 (2f), Micheál Burns 0-1

Scorers for Slaughtneil: Pádraig Cassidy 1-0, Christopher Bradley 0-2, Paul Bradley 0-3 (2f), Shane McGuigan 0-1, Francis McEldowney 0-1

nGaeilge. Oibríonn Brennan mar mhúinteoir corpoideachas agus Gaeilge i gColáiste Flannán anois.

“Is dócha sa bhunscoil sin a fuarthas an ngrá don Ghaeilge. Bhí múinteoirí bunscóile iontacha againn ansin, Eddie Liddy go háirithe a bhí mar Phríomhoide. Nuair a bhí mé sa bhunscoil i mBaile Aodha chuir sé an bhéim ar an nGaeilge agus is as sin a spreagadh mo shuim sa Ghaeilge.

“Chuaigh me go dtí an meánscoil ansin agus d’aithin mé an meon diúlteach a bhí ann i leith na Gaeilge i measc mo chomhdhaltaí agus theastaigh uaim rud éigin a dhéanamh chun sin a athrú. Ní dóigh liom go bhfuil sin á dhéanamh agam go hiomlán ach fos féin táim ag iarraidh.

“I Ollscoil Luimnigh rinne mé Gaeilge le Corpoideachais. Ní raibh ach triúr againn ón rang sin a chailigh le Gaeilge. Go hiondúil déanann daoine Tíreolaíocht no Mata b’fhéidir.

“Thaitin sé liom. Níl aon Ghaeilgeoiri sa bhaile nó aon rud mar sin, níor tháinig aon duine as an nGaeltacht nó aon rud mar sin.” Le cursaí sport faoi lan seol gach samhraidh ní dhearna Brennan cúrsa aon bhliain nuair a bhí sé ina dhéagoir. “B’fhéidir ar feadh deireadh seachtaine nó lá anseo agus ansiúd.

“Ní dhearna mé cúrsa riamh sa nGaeltacht mar bhí siad ar siúl le linn an tSamhraidh nuair a bhí peil agus iomanaíocht le n-imirt. Ní raibh mé in ann imeacht ar feadh trí seachtain, níor chaith me seal mar sin riamh ann.”

Mar gheall ar sin bhí siad sásta i mBaile Aodha agus i gCluain De Ghad, áit a imríonn Brennan a chuid peile. “Níl aon pheil i mBaile Aodha. Is as Baile Aodha domsa féin ach is é Chluan de Ghad (Clondegad) an Chumann peile, díreach in aice linn.

“Tá roinnt mhaith leads a imríonn an dhá chluiche, ceathrar nó cúigear. Tá saghas tuiscint idir Baile Aodha agus Cluan de Ghad.”

Tá gach rud tuilte ag Brennan - múinteoir, peileoir, iomanaí - cúis inspiráid d’éinne a chuireann suim i gcursaí Chumann Luthchleas Gael.
